Can't believe there is a future for the children of today Corrupted politicians are standing in their way don't let the system fool You, all that they want is to rule You They're blinding their eyes for glory, a brief moment of success
Is all their fame and fortune a substitute for happiness?
For once in their lives, why can't they realize?
The answer is love, Yeah love!
Oh Father, whom art in heaven behold this world in need of peace and understanding instead of hate and greed Choose the way that's in Your heart.
