

Count Raven "Social Warfare"

I can see our sunshine turn to rain and I can see happiness turn to pain Atomic bombs arise in nuclear skies Oblivion sure won't come as no surprise I can see our pride turn into shame as we're drawn into play their deadly game a politicians promises and lies he's financing our funeral with a smile bow Your head, share my sorrow for You and me there's no tomorrow the right to live is now on sale the price - Your life Social warfare
Now You might think You're not the one to bleed better safe than sorry from our deed Churches give salvation by the pound
