[Written by Dan Fondelius, Fredrik Jansson, Jens Bock]

We're walking through this life that's nothing but a game

All know The Entity, the no one speaks it's name
Were told that we are born, we live and we die
What is between all this we just have to hide

Welcome to the other side
Where we no longer hide

There are rules out here, wherever you will turn
They are all put there in case you should learn
They are all meant for you to never find your life
And if you follow them you must kiss your ass goodbye
