Have you heard the news today
It's so easy to be drawn away
All the things we'd never leave
I never meant to make you grieve

It's time we took a step back
And rediscovered our tracks
To remember how this all came to be

Enough is never enough
You'll always be searching
Longing for something more
Go and follow your dreams
Soon you know we'll realise what we needed was him along
It's you

Fight after fight we stay
How long until we make way
Giving up on memories
Spending all the shattered dreams

Enough is never enough
You'll always be searching
Longing for something more
Go and follow your dreams
along

Can you whisper clearly and tame my feelings
Our sense of direction is fading quickly now
