Ghost and lies and lullabies too
Of good times gone bad and bad times gone good
Restless and hoping the morning will come soon
Moon shines through this iron clad window the lights on the wall cast an uneasy shadow
Restless and hoping the morning will come soon

When your sleeping are you dreaming of being alone
Are you sad that these days never end
Can you see just a glimmer of hope

This is real life these are bad times
Is this all you wanted to be
These are hard times
I don't dream skies is this is all that you wanted to see
this is me

No judge, defence or alibi saves you
Regret it falls on shoulder that blame you
Tomorrow feel like forever meets no end
Meets no end

When your sleeping are you dreaming of being alone
Are you sad that these days never end
Can you see just a glimmer of hope

This is real life these are bad times
Is this all you wanted to be
These are hard times
I don't dream skies is this is all that you wanted to see
this is me
