What more proof do you need you're alive you can speak you can see I know and you know I have found reality but you say that you won't believe

If only I could see one day go by Without the aimless path you lead your life, what's not clear

My comrade your time is running out
When you cannot breathe you cannot change the past My good friend it's time for you to know
You have to know before you have to go

If only I could see one day go by
clear
