In summer when the sun shines you watched me when I played

In autumn when leaves fall I ran to you with joy

In winter when it's cold out you tucked me in at night

In springtime when flowers bloomed you held my hand when I flew my kite

But it's time to let me go I'm not your boy tonight

Forever grateful to this day but now I'm my own shadow

In the old days the good times I knew you were invincible

As time flies in my own eyes you grew a shade more vulnerable

Step aside now don't cry now you know it's hard to say goodbye

Forever grateful to this day but now I'm my own
shadow

And as the lion club grows and leaves mum

It's time to release me and let me move on

You know that tomorrow I'll still be your son

You know that I'll run home when things there get hard

Let me go.
