Is it pleasing to see me I'm reeling from all these strange feelings
The rocket ship is leaving for Venus It's your eyes mesmerising the spies that I send out to find you
Who can tame the force that dwells in you

Who will catch me when I fall
Can you relate to me at all
Or am I just a nameless face that you desire

It's too late I won't go

It is sparse here on mars and the scars they keep on coming to haunt me
I'm too late the ship is departing It's the spell you cast that repels all the mist that surrounds you
Who can tame the force that dwells in you and

Who will catch me when I fall
Can you relate to me at all
Or am I just a nameless face that you desire

It's too late I won't go

I cry these tears but you won't hear This world is mine (life is yours) but it's too hard to bear
You won't find the long road that might lead you here.
