I don't speak with eloquence
My mind wanders through the day
I don't really know the answer, the answer

One thing I know for sure
You won't come knocking round my door
The secret seems not to persuade you

You say you're on your on your way
And looking forward to a brighter day
But you don't know what you are missing over your shoulder

Foolish words are what you hear
If only you could understand
The tonight could be your last night, your last night

No mind can comprehend
The treasure that's in store for you
But this line could be your last line, your last line

You say you're on your on your way
And looking forward to a brighter day
On and on it still remains unclear
So you were destined to live in fear
If you would only choose to love

If only you knew

You say you're on your on your way
And looking forward to a brighter day
On and on it still remains unclear
So you were destined to live in fear
If you would only choose to love

This misdirected life all because of you pride
The signs you asked for will never be in line with what you hoped for, your time is running out Over your shoulder, look over your shoulder
