Antarctica winter 1982 research was going steady, And there was nothing much to do In the distance a lone wolf flees, But no one knows the carnage that this animal will bring

VIOLENE UNFOLDS

Assaulted by Norwegian guests theyll have to die like all the rest

SEARCHING THROUGH SNOW

Discovering the frozen corpse of something thats not of this earth

THE CREATURE COMES FORTH

An evil makes its presence known attempting to create a clone

NOWHERE TO GO

And something grim is at hand something in this arctic land

The Thing, No one knows the hell it will bring

Its got you from the inside, Its taking over your life

Intensions so unexplained, Until the gets a hold of your brain

Hiding till the damage is done, Killing them off one by one

The sense of fear begins to grow, and no one has protection from this dangerous infection

Their fates in the hands of the unknown, and nerves are quickly blowing while the thing is steadily growing

Whom to trust theyll never now

And nothing can contain a creature of the unexplained

Half the crews dead more to go

Somehow its got to stop and now McReady's getting pissed off

Now theres nothing left to do

Discovering whose human is what this final test will prove

Deadly results are what this test brings

But its the final hope to unveil this gruesome being

VIOLENCE UNFOLDS

The test was the solution now its time for execution

And now Blair is the last Thing left Hell fight until his dying breath

THE CREATURE COMES FORTH

But this will be the final clash and kills it with a giant blast

Our heros fate is finally sealed

The camp is lost The Thing is killed (or is it?)
