I don't know, it's like you ever wish you had amnesia
You know like, you can forget whoever it was that Ruined it for everyone else that one person
If you can just forget them like you would have a happier life
Remember
I keep forgetting to remember to forget
All the lies and all the bullshit
All the reasons that we had to call it quits
Pieces to our puzzle that never seemed to fit
Started out fast and ended so quick
For weeks on end I was so sick
So the next time I start to reminisce
Remind me to remember to forget
Last night I sat down to cry over you then I stopped
And asked myself, why, over you?
And snapped out of it and got on with my day
'Cause my life been a lot better since the break up
You was only breaking me down
It was nothing but drama when I bring you around
All that attitude, so disrespectful
When I was with you my life was so stressful
Every little thing turned into an argument
We yell until we don't even remember what started it
I wanted no part of it I had to move on Packed my bags and head straight to Tucson
And with you gone now there's room for laughing
Smiling, things I need to do more
Less thinking 'bout what we could've been
And after all you've put me through I'll never be with you again
I keep forgetting to remember to forget
All the lies and all the bullshit
All the reasons that we had to call it quits
Pieces to our puzzle that never seemed to fit
Started out fast and ended so quick
For weeks on end I was so sick
So the next time I start to reminisce
Remind me to remember to forget
I quit you, you can't quit me
I was the one that set you free
Oh, I see you got somebody new

Do they never know that you can never be true?
That they will never get to know the real you?
'Bout all the scandals things you like to do
Do they know you still call me and text me?
Run back to me whenever things get messy?
I suggest we continue on our separate paths
And quit telling me that I'm the best you've ever had
I knew that then I know that now
But once you upgrade you can't go back down
I keep forgetting to remember to forget
All the lies and all the bullshit
All the reasons that we had to call it quits
Pieces to our puzzle that never seemed to fit
Started out fast and ended so quick
For weeks on end I was so sick
So the next time I start to reminisce
Remind me to remember to forget
Remind me, remind me
Remind me, someone remind me
Remind me, remind me some one
Remind me, remind me someone, remind me
Remind me, remind me, somebody remind me
I keep forgetting to remember to forget
All the lies and all the bullshit
All the reasons that we had to call it quits
Pieces to our puzzle that never seemed to fit
Started out fast and ended so quick
For weeks on end I was so sick
So the next time I start to reminisce
Remind me to remember to forget
