I'm sick of feeding my soul
To people who'll never know
Just how purposeless
And empty they've grown

Because their language confuses
Like computers refuse
To understand how I'm feeling today

I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head

I am freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head

I saw a liquid controlled
That gives life to us all
I hit my head on it
And woke up to know

That I was all alone
Wearing just socks and a phone
Someone screaming like
Their world might explode

Yeah, I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head

I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't want another
Map of your head

Freezing
And losing my way
I don't want another

Map of your head

I'm freezing
And losing my way
I don't need another
Map of your head, yeah
