I said it all a hundred, I'll probably say it again
As long as it's a one way fight, you're guaranteed to win
I've been thinking all about it between my heart and my head
I finally figured out this mess, gonna put it to bed.

One way conversation, hear it all the time
One way conversation running through my mind.

You got your fists flying, love's a fox on the run
I am the jewelers' daughter, he could be a son of a gun
I've been down in the valley, a bird up in the sky
You've got your perspective, I got mine.

One way conversation, hear it all the time
One way conversation running through my mind
It's always one way information coming out wrong
It's just a one way conversation going on and on

Said it all a hundred, uh, but I'll say it again
Long as it's a one way fight, you're guaranteed to win

One way conversation, hear it all the time
One way conversation running through my mind
It's always one way information coming out wrong
It's just a one way conversation going on and on.

Going on and on
Going on and on
Going on and on
Going on and on.
