"I'll Find What I've Been Seeking"

Within the struggle I'm finding peace
Here in the madness I am released
Upon the rhythm of an ancient melody
Inside a trance that catapults me
Yeah I wander
I wander
And in myself I'm sure

I'll find what I've been seeking before too long
I'll find you and I'll keep you close
I'm still reaching out here don't you know

And I'm beginning to understand that my demons are Really my friends
But you won't see the bastards dragging me down
For I'm accepting their gifts of ascent and insight

Fair is not and foul is a place
From which wings emanate
And karma reigns
