Tighten teeth and then let it go by.
Fake a smile and watch your hatred die.
It gets easier every time you lie.
But its too yourself so watch your mirror cry.

Unwillingly you hide.
A funeral for your pride.
Ego's needs are denied.
Another days goes by and once again you've been defied.

If you let it out you'll make the news.
I wouldn't walk a mile in your shoes.
You gave up winning, now you only loose.
For the first time now you're able to choose.

How much more can fit inside before you finally explode?
How much longer can you wait before you can collect what you're owed?

Unwillingly you hide.
A funeral for your pride.
Ego's needs are denied.
Another days goes by and once again you've been
defied.

Unwillingly you hide.
A funeral for your pride.
Ego's needs are denied.
Another days goes by and once again you've been
defied
