How, how?
Are we off on a tangent again
Oh we say what we say
And the poison is breakin our skin

Blame what's to blame
It's an argument no one can win

Cause at best, we don't know
And it's wearin us thin

(chorus)
And we stare at the sun
But we never see anything there
Just a glare has become
All that we'll ever see there
And we stare at the sun
But we never see anything there
All of nothin's become
All that we'll ever see there

Cards, we are cards
And we spun around on the truth
Maybe we don't need to know
Any more than we have to

(chorus)

The sky is always wondering
What are these arguments about
You think we'd of noticed
Our eyes are burning out
We should've learned by now

And we stare at the sun
But we never see anything there
Just a glare has become
All that we'll ever see there
And we stare at the sun
But we never see anything there
All of nothin's become

All that we'll ever see ever see

We stare at the sun
(and we stare at the sun)
But we never see anything there
Just a glare has become
(just a glare has become)
All that we'll ever see there

It's all that we'll ever see there(x2)

And we stare at the sun (x4)
