Say, the lights are really low enough to play,
Would you catch me when I'm falling down?
And all alone, alone and if,
You try to make the most of this,
And you said you'd always love me,
Then you made me walk away.

And if you stay right here?
When I tell you,
That someone out there loves you
If you stay right here,
Well I'd tell you
That someone out there loves you after all.

Sometimes it's always easier at fall
Then you pick yourself right back and better
All alone you prove that I was
Broken down to move and alright
Battling the loss you live for
Meant the world to you

And would you stay right here?
When I tell you
That someone out there loves you
Stay right here
When I'm telling you
That someone out there loves you

No one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?
And is there no one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?

And if you go
Just lets go home!

And if you stay right here
When I'm telling you
'Cause someone out there loves you
Stay right here
When I'm telling you
That someone out there loves you

No one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?
And is there no one out, no one out there?
Is there no one who, no one who cares?
