Jessie don't you hide, don't you close your eyes. I love it when you blush, you blush. don't you love the way that I pull away when you lean in towards my lips. I love the way you kiss.

put your hands in my sweater, it's cold outside, it's cold outside. baby, put your hands in my sweater, it's cold outside, it's cold outside.

meet me outside at 8:55, we'll make it a date so don't be late. I'll rub your arms to keep you warm. it's the longest night of the year, it's the coldest night of the year and I'll keep you warm.
