So I'll take this down, just one last time. just one more and I'll be fine. lay your head on my chest don't be scared when I'm short of breath, it will be all over soon.

with my eyes shut tight wishing tonight would rewind itself so I can make things right again. with my eyes shut tight wishing tonight would rewind itself so I can make things right again.

my teeth clenched as I hit the bottom, I'm back again just me verses this bottle and I'm getting nowhere fast, I'm getting nowhere fast.

with my eyes shut tight wishing tonight would rewind
itself so I can make things right again. with my eyes
shut tight wishing tonight would rewind itself so I can

take this bottle down, doesn't it feel so good?*

I'll take it down.

with my eyes shut tight wishing tonight would rewind
itself so I can make things right again. with my eyes
shut tight wishing tonight would rewind itself so I can make things right again.

never let time run out
