Open up up those big bright eyes, I'll cut them out for all the lies you've ever told me. please stop she said as I cut into her, breath in I said as her blood hit the floor.

your body is black and blue but your still warm, your eyes are wide open, your clothes are all torn. the look on your face is frozen in terror, I can't take this back.

the kiss of goodnight, it's time to leave. get me away from this crime scene, nothing to do to take this back.
the blank stare I see from the love that you lack, can't you see, I can see you did this to yourself.

your body is black and blue but your still warm, your
eyes are wide open, your clothes are all torn. the look
on your face is frozen in terror, I can't take this back.

open up, open up those big bright eyes.
I'll cut them out, cut them out for all the lies.

cant you see anything thats happening all around you.
so I'll say goodbye and goodnight to you.

your body is black and blue but your still warm, your
eyes are wide open, your clothes are all torn. the look
on your face is frozen in terror, I can't take this back.
your body is black and blue but your still warm, your
eyes are wide open, your clothes are all torn. the look on your face is frozen in terror, I can't take this back, I can't take this back, I can't take this back, I can't take this back
