Put on your space suit, put on your helmet We're leaving in a while, we're leaving in a while Say goodbye to everyone and don't forget to kiss them
Leave them with a smile, leave them with a smile

We'll blow up the sun, smash it to smithereens
And be heading home when we're done
And so this countdown's gotta run, to assassinate the sun
And restart when it's gone

Climb aboard this ship this is a mission not a trip So let me see you walk with pride, you're on the winning side
All we must achieve is find the sun and make it leave We'll be the heroes of the day, the heroes of the day

Say goodbye to earth below, life will change and so will all you've known It's strange but once it's done, we'll be proud that we blew up the sun

We'll blow up the sun, scatter it in space
Reissue the tale of human race
And so let the countdown run, we have to do this one We'll blow up the sun
