

My Glorious "Break My Heart"

Visit "Break My Heart" on MotoLyrics.com

The heart has grown ridiculously numb
It used to break me
The feelings go but never seem to come
The eyes take in the brain gets up and runs
It used to touch me
Ignore the clouds you're picturing the sun

Responsibility grows tired when
The comfort suffers
We'd like to feel the hurt but we can't
It takes some sweat to turn away but then
The heart's relieved
Build a world that works the way it's planed
It doesn't need me, no it doesn't need

My heart ain't shattered
My mind ain't rattled
How I want to feel the pain
Break my heart, convert it
My mind, alert it
How I want to feel the pain
How I want to feel the pain

War is just a game that others play
You watch on TV
Turn it off and make it go away
You make it go away, you make it go away
You turn it off and make it go away

My heart ain't shattered
My mind ain't rattled
How I want to feel the pain
Break my heart, convert it
My mind, alert it
How I want to feel the pain

Yes I wanna feel the pain
Yes I wanna feel the pain
Oh I wanna feel the pain
How I wanna feel the pain
