Hear it, hear it
A voice raised for Africa so fear it
Hear it, cause it's always gonna have a name
Music, it is music
You say nothing's gonna change the world you'll loose it
He is music he's always got something to say

Fighters where are the fighters
The battle's on but who is there beside us
We need fighters lonely till the day they die
We are rebels, crusaders
We coexist and maybe talk about it later
But first and foremost there is love

We need love extenders
We need vision bearers
We need hope defenders
We need love we need love
And we need peace promoters
We need joy sustainers
We need heart repairers
Who will fight for love, for love

It's a kind of emergency to make something present history
Not to be remembered for merely technology but making and end to poverty
That's what the man said up on the stage after he clapped his hands
Some of us didn't quite want that but some of us did
Some of us didn't understand that we've gotta change
We gotta change the unchangeable
I never believed in not changing the world
I never believed you gotta do it on your own
Sometimes you gotta start it on your own

We need love extenders
We need vision bearers
We need hope defenders
We need love we need love
And we need peace promoters

We need joy sustainers
We need heart repairers
Who will fight for love, for love
