I hate myself today
I lost control over what I've done
I've given in again and I'm losing hope in myself

I hate myself today
I'm in despair when I think of you my weakness
What I don't want that I do
How can I still be with you
I really need you here

I think that I really need you
More than ever before
More than ever before
I think that I
I think that I really need you
More than ever before
More than ever before

I let you down again
And I don't know why this always happens
I've given in again and I want to stand up to myself for once
I let you down again and I wouldn't know how to cope without you
Stay with me, give me time
Can't predict that I'll be fine
But I really need you here

I think that I really need you
More than ever before
More than ever before
I think that I
I think that I really need you
More than ever before
More than ever before

I'm waiting all alone
No hope to carry me
When will you come and rescue me
The day is ending soon
It's giving up on me
When will you come and rescue me
