Hiding from night to day, this will pass and soon you'll be in the clear Soon is a lot further off than you expect

Backtrack to the point of when your home the ship was god,
And you took the notes that will mark you For your death describe to us in simple words how it felt to watch
And learn as these experiments became More real than you and me

Scientists
Are vantrilaquists

Trance set in to leave, the colored display of what fell, Into the ocean night, but the movement of waves With the movement of my wrists blended just right to make you pay Attention over and over and over again, with 24 hours in a day,
I set aside 23 of them tearing into you

With this promise comes disregard for lack of a better murder

Wake up in the sand, it's the only friend you got The secrets have been burned Your family is lost or worse dead

Bet you thought they'd let you go
