No...

I'm so hungry an the only thing I have are these bitter pills in my hand

I'm so thirsty and the last drop which remains to me trickles

Through my trembling fingers... still

I want to stand up

A promise to myself

Don't wanna prove anything to anyone

I want to stand up

Searching for Sunlight

And don't wanna prove anything to anyone!

I'll...

The ground of truth is painful

The ground of truth is more serious than I thought

And the way back to paradise runs in circles

No one here who wants to lead me

I yearn for the "day"

Don't wanna cry... Just wanna be needed again

How long do I have to wait to do penance for my mistakes?

For how long am I cursed?

I want to stand up...

As I started to believe was alone

In the stroboscope pretence of you noble restriction

As I started to see I was shocked about the ridiculous mask

I was searching shelter behind...

And

Slowly it grows in me... The desire for a change...
