And it's only a 1000 miles away
But I'm coming and I'm taking you away She's trying to find the words as she's turning off the waterworks,
For a while
I'm trying to get a hold,
But it feels like we are getting old before we know
And it's early for the coming of your age
And it breaks me, the decisions that we'll make She's trying to find the words as she's turning off the
waterworks,
For a while
I'm trying to find a way,
But they came crashing all the way But still, baby, what can I say?
And she's trying to find the words as she's turning off the waterworks,
For a while
I'm trying to find a way,
But they came crashing all the way But still, baby, what can I say?
