"Stay"

Take me away girl with your one way ticket
For my eyes can only see your happiness
You bring me inside and you say don't knock it
Stay the while and I'll give my best
So lift your head girl and show me your hand
Don't you see you are a royal flush
You're more rare than any, above you stand
Education so much but you never push

It takes a lot of patience

Just to make our paths connect

Three more sessions yeah we're still so near
I need you here to keep the pace
Help me wash away these fears
Every day I need to see your face
So lift your head girl and show me your hand
Don't you see you are a royal flush
You're more rare than any, above you stand
Education so much but you never push
