Splash into the pool that surrounds you, how may I be of your service, when no one else replies, comments they float from all directions, making it hard to be overwhelmed by illusion, we control the artificial life, you really got to love it,

when I'm in plain view,

Splash over the mountain tops of angry principals, calling you out, calling you right when they were wrong, excuse the impressions gave on how to make a change,
Cause they weren't meant for only you.

we control the artificial life, you really got to love it,
when I'm in plain view,

The love is in the air, yet not for sale, release your energy while gravity's pulling you, right back down to reality,

(lie),
Changes, they overwhelm me (Liar), Failing to take control (you fucking Liar),

we control the artificial life, you really got to love it,
when I'm in plain view.
