The touch, the taste of innocence,
no confidence inside of this place, that awaits us,
The red I see, they're coming for me,
Can't ignore the foul smell in the air,

The are waiting for you,
To play this game again,
So please take me back to the end,

The touch, the taste of innocence,
no confidence inside of this place, that awaits us, do you have the time cause my watch always says half past noon, could you save me form this hell I'm in?
The are waiting for you,
To play this game again,
So please take me back to the end,

They are waiting for you (take me back),

The are waiting for you,
To play this game again,
So please take me back to the end.
