Before you go, I wanna talk to you
I just wanna talk to you

Thinking about the time we shared
And how I wasn't there
It hurt me, these people overworked me

Then I heard maybe soon you'll leave
Excuse me Lord, if you have tricks up your sleeve
I'm not ready to be bereaved

I know I'm always asking for something or another
But this time, it's just time
'Cause I love her

But baby, if he don't change his mind
Or fate or time
Yo, I want to leave you with this line

It goes while you're here
I wanna tell you something
It's that I love you girl, yeah
And I wish we could run to the sun
And never come back, yeah

Yesterday I tied two rocks together
That symbolize our lives
And threw them in the ocean

Now they're on the ocean floor coastin'
'Til they stop rollin' so far
That no sonar would list them

To the point that no one would even believe that we existed
I know that may sound twisted
But my neglect is killin' me, I feel so guilty
Please have faith if you feel me

It goes while you're here
I wanna tell you something
It's that I love you girl, yeah

And I wish we could run to the sun
And never come back, yeah

It goes while you're here
I wanna tell you something
It's that I love you girl, yeah
And I wish we could run to the sun
And never come back, yeah

Though you're probably feelin' blue
And you'll do what you must do
I hope you know, I'd hand the skies to you

I'm so embarrassed for mankind
They have the nerve to let their weapon shine
They're so stupid

Do they not know you're about to fly high away
With the wings that God will give you someday
I'm not jealous, I just can't take it

S.O.S. to your ears
The only thing I ever feared was this day
And having to say

It goes while you're here
I wanna tell you something
It's that I love you girl, yeah
And I wish we could run to the sun
And never come back, yeah

It goes while you're here
I wanna tell you something
It's that I love you girl, yeah
And I wish we could run to the sun
And never come back, yeah

It goes while you're here
I wanna tell you something
It's that I love you girl, yeah
And I wish we could run to the sun
And never come back, yeah

It goes while you're here
I wanna tell you something
It's that I love you girl, yeah
And I wish we could run to the sun
And never come back, yeah
