Woke up this morning, I didn't know what I felt
This heart is broken, I wish I could change the past
Now I don't know if I should get out of my bed Looking like a Sunday loser and these eyes are still blood red
Looking at our pictures didn't fit into the frame
Your beautys blinding surely thatll stay the same
Cause I don't know if what I did was right or wrong
I liked you a lot girl, why can't we go on How come I don't know if what I did was right or wrong
Can you tell me please where do I belong
Now that it's over, girl Im feeling kinda sad
Burst out in tears, your picture above my bed
Now I don't know if I should leave this place behind
Please don't check for me, I will not be around
Where do I belong, where do I belong,
