There was a dolphin playing with his love and friend
A hunting ship turned up and caught her in the end
He struggled to defend her but soon she just was gone
He never ever gave up searching for his love

He kept on crossing every ocean, every sea
He searched in hurricanes and cold untiringly
He missed the games they play and
How he missed the love they had
Without his girl his life was empty and so sad

True love will never surrender
True love will never fade away
He searched in storm and in sunshine
He'll keep on searching everyday
You'll hear him cry in the ocean
You'll hear him call his friend
He doesn't realise they will not meet again

He saw so many things he'd never seen before
Big whales that soon won't be existing anymore
He went through tainted waters
Pain seemed to have no end
But still he kept on searching for his love and friend

Turn around - while you can
Turn around - understand
You're alone - so go back home
Turn around....

True love will never surrender
True love will never fade away
He searched in storm and in sunshine
He'll keep on searching everyday
You'll hear him cry in the ocean
You'll hear him call his friend
He doesn't realise they will not meet again

You'll hear him crying when he's calling for his friend
