You don't have to run away
You can find a way to solve your problems
Just don't lose control

If everyone complains about you all the time
Don't be afraid of them or they could steal your mind

A thousand times you heard
"You'll never hit a home run"
Those assholes will keep pickin' on me 'till appears the sun

That's enough for you but not enough for them
This nightmare's gonna start again and again

(Don't)
No don't let 'em get inside your head
Your dreams and your life could be wrecked in a second
(Don't)
Don't let this pain dominate your brain
You can find a way to keep your head at the right place

Everything went wrong
Part of your life you were all alone
Listening to people always telling you what to do
You gotta move on but you're so confused
You have nothing to lose

(Don't)
No don't let 'em get inside your head
Your dreams and your life could be wrecked in a second
(Don't)
Don't let this pain dominate your brain
You can find a way to keep your head at the right place
