Wrong place
Exactly at the wrong time
Trying to watch boring classes there I was

I felt things bustin' into flames inside o' me
After a couple o' minutes I was sweating like a pig
So dizzy I couldn't think, I couldn't speak

Hey dude, I think you should forget this day
Sometimes you are ahead, sometimes you are behind
It such a shame that you just couldn't wait
When things would run just right
It was too late
(Was too late)

Break Time
Hoping of calling my mom I'd be all right
No answer, no sign
Then I ran away
I was trying going home but they kept saying "No way"
That pain filled out my body, It was too late

Hey dude, I think you should forget this day
Sometimes you are ahead, sometimes you are behind
It such a shame that you just couldn't wait
When things would run just right
It was too late
(Was too late)
