One more time, one more time
Uh, one more time, uh
One more time

I dream of the day
I can go back to when I was born laying in your arms
Wishing you was here today mom
Wish you'd appear just for a second from Heaven
My tears would be gone I wouldn't be rapping this song
I'd be happy driving up to your eight bed room mansion

Up late, laughing bout the hard time we faced
The galaxy is so enchantin' beyond
Galileo's understanding
Past the Milky way and all the planets
There's something out there greater
But only God knows, scientist claim we came from apes
But they lies though, that was part of our conversation

I spark one up and start blazin'
Thinking of how amazing she was
A Angel gave me love
I'm thankful, to ever know a women so real
I pray when I marry my wife I have one of your skills
But mom you could never be replaced
I'd give my life up just to see you one more day to have

One more dance with you mama
If I could only have
One more dance with you mama
Praying, wishin' I could have
One more dance with you mama
If I could only have
One more dance with you mama

I wish you were here
I miss you more each second I breathe
You resting in peace forever I accepted you free
A blessing to me, I see you dressed in all white
Smiling at me, happy knowing everything's all right
If only I can hear your voice and your laughter

Just one more time
My chest would be filled up with sunshine April seven four two
That's when the gates of Heaven opened up for you
To stroll through beautiful Anne Jones
Job is done, raising ghetto kids in the hood
You was my strength to carry on and now I'm good Job well done, you lived threw you sons and your grandchildren

Jesus finally got his bride, mommy dance with him
And you've been my guide threw all the trouble I faced They playing our song the life beat my hand on your waist
I grab your other hand and try not to step on your toes
Spin you around with my eyes closed
Dreaming I could have

One more dance with you mama
If I could only have
One more dance with you mama
Praying, wishin' I could have
One more dance with you mama
If I could only have
One more dance with you mama

I love you forever mom
You will always live threw me always
Uh, uh uh, yeah
