Simple melodies become enchanting symphonies
When you're with someone you love
Starlit summer nights
Can hold a thousand new delights
When you're with someone you love

Ev'ry little flower seems to blossom by the hour
With some rare perfume
She can touch your hand
And make a palace of a tiny room
Happy things are gladder
Even sad things so much sadder
When there's someone you love

You can climb the ladder of romance
And reach the stars above
And when you've quarreled
And vowed you would end it
How sweet it is when you mend it
You're just not you without
Can't do without that someone you love

[Instrumental Interlude]

And when you've quarreled
And vowed you would end it
How sweet it is when you mend it
You're just not you without
Can't do without that someone you love
