Too young to go steady
Too young, I hear her say
She says we're not ready
But then why am I
Feeling this way

Too young, so she tells me
She says we'll have to wait
Why wait til it may be too late

Can't she realize
She drives me wild
Is she made of stone

Must she always act
Just like a child
Won't she ever own up
We're grown up

Some day, she'll be sorry
Some day, just wait and see
She'll wish she'd
Gone steady with me

Can't she realize
She drives me wild
Is she made of stone

Must she always act
Just like a child
Won't she ever own up
We're grown up

Some day, she'll be sorry
Some day, just wait and see
She'll wish she'd
Gone steady with me
