

Natalia Druyts

"Everything & More"

Visit "Everything & More" on MotoLyrics.com

I was living surrounded by different shades of grey
With a dream that promised all the colours
Then you came
Nothing seemed to fit
And I tried to find my place
I found my way through the maze
Through your grace

Suddenly I'm waking up each day
Caressed awake by your rays

You're giving me everything and more
No more colours to complete
You're half the painting that is me
We're a masterpiece
And every day I didn't know you
You were still meant for me

I was breathing in and out but far from feeling alive
With a dream that promised a kiss of life
Then you came
Now I'm livin' each and every day
Under a rainbow sky
And you're the firefly
Lightin' up my night

Suddenly I'm waking up each day
Caressed awake by your rays

You're giving me everything and more
No more colours to complete
You're half the painting that is me
We're a masterpiece
And every day I didn't know you
You were still meant for me

I always hoped the fairytale, would happen to me
And I waited my turn so patiently
Now I don't have to sleep
To live out this dream
Our colours formed this masterpiece

Ooh

You're giving me everything and more
There's no more colours to complete
You're half the painting that is me
We're a masterpiece
And every day I didn't know you
You were still meant for me

Oooh

No, no more colours to complete
There's no more colours to complete
You're half the painting that is me
We're a masterpiece
And every day I didn't know you
You were still meant for me

You are still meant for me

Visit Natalia Druyts page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.