

Natalia Druyts

"On The Radio"

Visit "On The Radio" on MotoLyrics.com

written and composed by Tim McEwan/Lars Halvor Jensen

I guess I oughta say
Your clothes have hit the street
Your car's been towed away
And oops, I think I dropped the keys

I loved you without condition
But this is my last transmission

I jumped in at the deep end
I guess you had me fooled
I was so naive then
But now the joke's on you

You have been disconnected
For what you did to me
Consider yourself rejected
On every frequency

They say what you give is what you get
Tell me about it
So I'm gonna do for what you did
By dumping you in stereo
To make sure it sinks into your head
Not gonna sugarcoat it

Just gonna let you know
On the radio
On the radio
On the radio

You heard it first
On the radio
On the radio
On the radio

The best way to let you know

Don't worry about your paintings

Don't think of your tv
They found a better place now
I'm thinking charity

I guess I could write you a letter
Now wouldn't that be sweet
But this is just so much better
Don't you agree

They say what you give is what you get
Tell me about it
So I'm gonna do for what you did
By dumping you on stereo
To make sure it sinks into your head
Not gonna sugarcoat it

Just gonna let you know
On the radio
On the radio
On the radio

You heard it first
On the radio
On the radio
On the radio

Turn up the volume, baby
Move your speakers in position
A breakup is what you make it
Now this is my definition woohoo

They say what you give is what you get
Tell me about it
So I'm gonna do for what you did
By dumping you in stereo
To make sure it sinks into your head
Not gonna sugarcoat it

I'm just gonna let you know
The best way to let you know
On the radio
On the radio
On the radio

You heard it first
On the radio
On the radio
On the radio

