Listen to my heart,
Cause it's started to beat again
I'm walking on the edge
But this time I think I'm falling in

And I cried all night
And I'm at the end
And I'm calling out
In the pouring rain

And I'm running, running
Running out of time
I need to love you now
I need to love you now, now

Holdin' on tight but it feels
Like you're slipping away
I try to make it right
Tell me that it's not too late

And the quiet night
Was the loudest sound
And I'm calling out
"I need to love you now!"

And I'm running, running
Running out of time
I need to love you now
I need to love you now, now
