Here she comes again
Goddess to all men
Working undercover
She's gonna get you in the end

How far you gonna go
Take a chance or you'll never know
On this mission there's one condition
You just gotta lose control

And her lips make you wanna stop and stare
But her eyes - they tell you to beware
Then she makes her move, and with one last look
She says catch me if you can

See your tail lights vanish in the dark
And there's a time bomb ticking in your heart
And she's got you good, and she knew she would
She says catch me, catch me if you can

Another beautiful disguise
You won't believe your eyes
She's got you where she wants you
When your heart is in her seize

So here comes a killer twist
The part that you just can't miss
It's a shameless scandal, too hot too handle
She'll kill you with a kiss

And her lips make you wanna stop and stare
But her eyes - they tell you to beware
Then she makes her move, and with one last look
She says catch me if you can

See your tail lights vanish in the dark
And there's a time bomb ticking in your heart
And she's got you good, and she knew she would
She says catch me, catch me if you can

And her lips make you wanna stop and stare
But her eyes - they tell you to beware

Then she makes her move, and with one last look
She says catch me, catch me
Catch me if you can

And her lips make you wanna stop and stare
But her eyes - they tell you to beware
Then she makes her move, and with one last look
She says catch me if you can

See your tail lights vanish in the dark
And there's a time bomb ticking in your heart
And she's got you good, and she knew she would
She says catch me, catch me if you can

If you can
If you can
If you can
