never meant to sell my heart to you, youll never know what you put me through never meant to give you that hug now im drawn to you like a druggg leave me here alone to cry, and in the end maybe even die
never meant to sell my heart to you,
gave you my all and look what you do

never meant to look away, i messed up forever that day, never meant to let you down, never meant to make you frown, let me go im no good for you, tried to help but what did i do
never meant to look away, im yours always forever and a day.

never meant to start that fight, should have said it would be alright, never meant to disclude you, like i sadly so often do, please forgive for what ive done, my life is too tightly strung
never meant to start that fight, im sorry for what i did that night

never meant to look away,
never meant to start that fight,
im sorry for what i did that night
never meant to do things wrong, never meant to write this song.
