

Natalie Grant

"At Your Feet"

Visit "At Your Feet" on MotoLyrics.com

She brought you oil, the purest gift she had
You washed her soul with her tears
Though more than a thousand years have passed
I still weep at how much that woman's just like me
And how much I want to be

At your feet, where I feel your spirit cover me
And the darkest of my sins, they are forgiven
What would you ask of me? I'd give up everything
Just so I can be at your feet

I know one day I will open up my eyes
To the wonders of heaven foretold
And I'll see that glorious mansion on high
But I'll be content just to see your face
If I can just find my place

At your feet, where I feel your spirit cover me
And the darkest of my sins, they are forgiven
What would you ask of me? I'd give up everything
Just so I can be at your feet

I wanna be, I wanna be
At your feet, where I feel your spirit cover me
And the darkest of my sins, they are forgiven
What would you ask of me? I'd give up everything
Just so I can be at your feet

Visit Natalie Grant page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.