I wonder what you're thinking now, 'cause you've been up all night
I wonder if my questioning is causing us to fight
I'm sorry if I push too hard, your silence is all I hear

Only you can hear me and only you can see through me
Don't leave me here, will you stay for a moment
Don't turn away 'cause you're scare you can't hold it
You've nothing to lose but another's been broken
I need you here

Saw the way you looked at me, my heart began to sink
Words are flying out so fast, I have no time to think I've never meant to cause you harm, your sadness is haunting

Only you can hear me and only you can see through me
Don't leave me here, will you stay for a moment
Don't turn away 'cause you're scare you can't hold it
You've nothing to lose but another's been broken
I need you here

This is harder to calm
Now we're way down the line
But it's all I want and I give up everything
So find me
I'm waiting, right here drowning in all of this

Don't leave me here, will you stay for a moment
Don't turn away 'cause you're scare you can't hold it
You've nothing to lose but another's been broken
I need you here
I need you here
Don't leave me here, will you stay for a moment
Don't turn away 'cause you're scare you can't hold it
You've nothing to lose but another's been broken
I need you here
