Sometimes it hits like a car crash
And it's too late to reverse
Sometimes you make me a better person
Sometimes you bring out the worst
Sometimes we get on like fire
Sometimes we're stubborn like rain
Just when I think it's over, over
You wave a white flag again
Aaa, aaa
We follow things we fall back in
Aaa, aaa
We're always back where we begin...

Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
It's wonderful to fall
It's worth of risking all
I'd rather love just a little too much...

Sometimes we're trapped in the circle
'Til we're digging holes in the ground
We're trying, but nothing is working
But still I want you around
'Cause if I'm lost in the desert
I know somehow you'll find me
And if I drown in the oceans,

You'll be the first to rescue me...

Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
It's wonderful to fall
It's worth of risking all
I'd rather love just a little too much
Woooooooah, woooooooah, woooooooah, wooooooooah....

Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
Aaa, aaa
We follow things we fall back in
Aaa, aaa

We're always back where we begin...

Everybody hurts just a little too much
Everybody hurts but it's never enough
It's wonderful to fall
It's worth of risking all
Even if it hurts just a little too much
I'd rather love just a little too much...
