It's cold out the sun aint shinin
The clouds are dark with no silver lining
Where has our time gone, and where have you been?
The winds up, the chimes are sounding
Look around with my heart pounding
Where has our time gone, and where have you been.

Remember, remember the 5th of November
When our lives came crashing down
Remember, remember the 5th of November
The last time I'd see you around

I'm holding hands with shadows
And they're fading everyday
I'm holding hands with shadows
But I won't let go today

(This anniversary, it means the world to me)

Remember, remember the 5th of November
When our lives came crashing down
Remember, remember the 5th of November
The last time I'd see you around

This night will live
In infamy
Cause this is the night
That you were taken from me

This anniversary
It means the world to me
This anniversary
It means the world to me

Remember, remember the 5th of November
When our lives came crashing down
Remember, remember the 5th of November
The last time I'd see you around
Remember, remember the 5th of November
When our lives came crashing down
Remember, remember the 5th of November
The last time I'd see you around
