I'm hoping for good times, when we have bad
And I hope for bad times rather than being without no times at all

Loving you baby has kept me so many nights awake

When we've got good times, when we've got some Something to work on, I beg for more to come
Loving you baby has kept me so many nights awake

I hear myself shouting
I hear myself screaming
The words I thought I not could say
The words that make you walk away
And then I sit alone
Waiting for the phone to call
To hear you on the line again
Du- du- du- du....

Come over again
Let's try one more time
This time it will work
All right and be fine

I'm hoping for mornings, I'll wake you up
Show you my love by ruffling your hair and coffee in a cup

Loving you baby is worth all the nights awake

I'm hoping for evenings, we will drink wine
Talk all night long and you will sleep on my arm
Loving you baby is worth all the nights awake

I hear myself shouting
I hear myself screaming
The words that are going to make you cry
The words with meaning of goodbye
And then I sit alone
Waiting for the phone to call
To hear you on the line again
Du- du- du- du....

Come over again
Let's try one more time
This time it will work
All right and be fine
