Vortex of my hunger draws you close
Oblivion promise in my gaze
Penetrates you deep to the core

I will be inhaling your curiosity
Licking your wet anxiety
Smudging my anger onto your delicacy
Sucking on your naivety

Touch my callous skin
Drive your nails into my cross-less back

Smell all sleepless hours I've been through

Watch
Beauty raped by life itself

With every tear I lick off your face
I take your fear into my heart
With every drop of blood you let me taste
I deprive you of your inner child
