When I was younger I used to understand
That when you're with a girl, you gotta act like a man
Mama told me that's the way it should be
And I know my mama never lied to me.

What do you think about you're changin times
Cause when Im with you I just can't make up my mind
Since I met you don't know right from wrong
Somebody tell me just what's goin on

Just can't get myself thinkin straight
Im all shook up and in a terrible state
Sometimes I think I got it all figured out
Then you do something new and it just knocks me right out

Someday baby Im going to have to make a stand
The way that you treat me baby
Don't make me feel too much like a man
And baby, baby, the changes you're goin through
Youre drivin me half crazy
Cant make up my mind what to do about you.

Tellin myself that time is on my side
Youre gettin this feelin that my minds on the slide
Dumped on the floor, I feel Im trapped in a spin
Don't know how to end, can't think of where to begin

She don't care I know she don't even try
But when she turns it on
You know she gets me so high.

Shes a lady that's making my life a sin
You know that Im runnin in a losin race
There aint no way I can win
Baby, baby, the changes you're goin through
They're drivin me half crazy
Cant make up my mind what to do about you.
